the Company for $30,000,000 When it Was Worth $7,200,000.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 .- James Smith, receiver of the United States Shipbuilding Company, to-day filed his answer to the actions recently instituted in the United States Circuit Court against the company and himself, as receiver, by the Mercantile Trust Company and the New York Security and Trust Company, the former to foreclose its mortgage as trustee for a 5 per cent. mortgage bond issue of $16,000,000, and the latter to foreclose its mortgage, also as trustee, upon a bond issue of $10,000,000. In his answer Mr. Smith accuses Charles M. Schwab, D. Leroy Dresser, Lewis Nixon, John S. Hyde, E. W. Hyde, Charles R Hanscom, I. M. Scott, Charles J. Canda, Horace W. Gause and John W. Young, pro-Company, of fraudulent practices in the formation of the shipbuilding company. Specifically Mr. Smith alleges in his answer Trust Company that the Bethlehem Steel United States Shipbuilding Company on the creditors, bondholders and stockholders of the shipbuilding company. Mr. Smith further charges that the shares the shipbuilding company issued in effecting this transaction constituted full payment of the steel company, and bonds mentioned in the complaint were therefore issued without consideration, and null and void, and that the mortgage given to secure the bonds is likewise null and void; that Mr. Schwab, in receiving the bonds and stock, became justly indebted to the shipbuilding company in the sum of $20,000,000 through the shareholders' liability act of New Jersey, under whose laws the defendant company was organized. By reason of this it is claimed the bonds have been fully paid, and the receiver. Mr. Smith, is entitled to an offset for $20,000,000. It is also alleged that the persons acting as directors of the defendant company were not qualified to act as such, not being bona fide holders of stock in the shipbuilding company.

The answer of Receiver Smith next contends that Mr. Schwab and his associates, to further defraud the defendant company, conspired with the directors of the company to insert certain provisions in the charter of the company, to enable them to control its affairs and to acquire its property at less than its true value. This nsertion in the charter of the shipbuilding company, so the answer claims, enmeetings of the company upon equal terms with the shareholders, and thus elect three of the seven directors of the com-

Charges are also made that Mr. Schwab caused the shipbuilding company to default in its interest, forcing its insolvency, thereby wrecking it, and enabling Mr. Sewab and his associates to acquire its assets. It is charged likewise that Mr. Schwab and his associates acted in collusion with "A so-called reorganization to meet, whereby funds might have been secured from some other sources to meet the outstanding obligations. In conclusion, it is claimed that the mortgage is not a in attendance at the convention which receiver, as the laws regulating mortgages on chattels was not complied with in the various States wherein the shipbuilding company owns property, and that it is

The allegations are made that the companies and plants merged into the shipbuilding company were worth the sum of $41,000,000, and in an exceedingly prosperous condition, having orders that showed a profit of at least $5,000,000. It is claimed that John W. Young secured the transfers of these properties to the defendant company upon the payment of $16,000,000 of the bonds, wherein the Mercantile Trust Company was trustee, $15,000,000 of the common and $10,000,000 of the preferred stock of the night did considerable damage. The fire department, that hem in all the new fall patterns, light responded to a general alarm, was handicapped by lack of water. The plant is on the outskirts of the city and a 6-inch main was the only supply. For four hours the firemen poured what water they could get on the flames and when the fire was under control nothing remained but the brick walls and the small office building. Besides the loss on the buildings 300 dressed beeves and 150 dressed hogs were cremated. Just nine months ago a gas explosion wrecked this same plant, killing four men and badly wounding six more. GOVERNOR DURBIN'S LETTER.

The Epistle Excites Criticism at Terre Haute.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Oct. 5 .- Governor Durbin's letter to Prosecutor Wallace, condemning street fairs in general and subgesting that the loose conditions of morals be prevented by some action by the prosecutor has had the effect of stimulating the street fair association to redoubled efforts. There has been a good deal of criticism of the Governor, not only by street fair people, but by many who used to ask for a better enforcement of the law when the Governor was responsible for the police administration and had authority to stop street fairs and otherwise save Terre Haute from the bad repute he now refers to in his letter. It is possible that some plan is yet under consideration by which next week's caropinion is that notwithstanding the representative character of the 400 citizens who signed the protest and the appeals to city and other authorities the fair will be held Many who at first were heard speaking in positive terms against the fair are now silent. As in the past the other element, which is aggressive, terrorizes the timid, and as one newspaper editor said of the former occasion: "Most of the merchants are cowards." But no one of the newspapers has said a word in comment on the Sullivan County Residents Claim That Illinois Would Be Affected.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. SULLIVAN, Ind., Oct. 5 .- Fifteen suits have been filed in the Sullivan Circuit Court against the Island Levee Association, which proposes to construct an eleven-mile overflows of the Wabash. The objectors contend that one mile of the proposed levee is to be constructed in Illinois and claim such to be illegal. Geographically the Wabash river is considered the western boundary of Indiana from the river's mouth to Vigo county, but it appears that this is not the case on account of a bend of the river to the east havformerly in Illinois now lies east of the Wabash river. The proposed levee is to follow the new bend of the river.

Case Involving $65,000.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. FRANKLIN, Ind., Oct. 5 .- The trial of a case was begun in the Circuit Court today in which the ownership of property valued at $65,000 is involved. Mrs. Serena Williams is suing to set aside the final report of John J. Beard as guardian of the late Prudence Beard and for an accounting of the vast estate she possessed. Miss Beard was for a number of years before her death of unsound mind and her brother, the defendant in this case, was in charge of her property. At her death he filed a report that showed but a small estate left. The report was accepted, but the other sister, Mrs. Williams, was not satisfied, and the present suit is the result. A long and bitter legal struggle is expected and each side is represented by a othese most important organs. strong array of attorneys. This Time. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. TERRE HAUTE, Oct. 5 .- County Auditor | Special to the Indianapolis Journal. Benjamin will issue a call for another special meeting of the County Council and it is gravely asserted that if the councilmen do as they did two weeks ago when they broke a quorum they will be mandated. The majority of the councilmen have been opposed to the plans of the County Commissioners and some bridge contractors for the building of a number of bridges and while the quorum was broken to avoid the bridge appropriations the action also prevented the making of other and necessary appropriations. Among these appropriations was the one for smallpox in the county and now that a serious epidemic is threatened at Fontanet the county health officer is forced to go into debt or fail to deal with the situation effectively.

BIG MERGER COMPLETED. Marion Men Said to Have Cleared $200,000 by the Deal.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MARION, Ind., Oct. 5 .- The merger the Marion Light and Heat Company with the Indiana Northern Traction, now preparing to build between Marion and Wabash, is completed. Major R. E. Reed is vice president of the traction company, G. A. H. Shideler is general manager of the Marion Light and Heat Company. The power houses of the combined companies will be united at once. Thirty-five thousand dollars has already been expended on this line to Wabash, which is now assured. It is said Marion men cleared $200,000 by the Glass Manufacturers to Meet.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 5 .- The annual meeting of the Federation Window Glass Company is to be held in Columbus, O., on Monday. It is reported among the various independent concerns affiliated with the company that there is a strong feeling in favor of a dissolution of the corporation. The officials admit that the condition of the glass trade is discouraging. The glass market is glutted with a surplus stock that must be sold before there can be anything done to improve conditions and prices. The larger corporations engaged in the business are curtailing expenses and dispensing with all the employes that they can. Building trades have suffered so much from strikes during the last year that there is little new consumption of window glass.

Looking to Through Travel. Special to the Indianapolis Journal

RICHMOND, Ind., Oct. 5 .- The City the obstruction to through travel over the appointment of a committee to investigate last night for Brockport.

the cost of raising the Chicago, Cincinnati & Louisville Railroad bridge. It is the understanding that the Richmond Traction Company and the railroad company will make an effort to get together and agree on sharing the cost. The city will not bear any part of it but will simply secure an unprejudiced estimate.

May Get New City Building.

ALEXANDRIA, Ind., Oct. 5 .- To-night's session of City Council considered a proposition from the Home Building and Investment Association of Indianapolis with the end in view of having the association build for the city a city building, including fire department, lockup, etc., to cost $30,000, to be paid for in rent at $138 per month for 240 months. The city has long needed an official building to replace the one now rotting down and abandoned for city uses and it is believed the proposition will eventualy go through.
